

I am writing regarding K-LOVE radio. (FM 106.7 in my area.) I have been listening to this station in Raleigh for several years. It is the only station of it's kind in my area that covers my entire travel area for work, and serves my listening needs. I hope that it will continue in existence and remain a strong, clear station, because many people who I know in this area listen to this station. Additionally, I work in the mental health field and I appreciate the fact that this radio station brings encouragement and positive support to many people who are homebound with mental health needs in this area, through the availability of it's pastoral staff by phone at all hours. I have actually referred patients to KLOVE for support, when they needed more emotional and spiritual support than the local mental health agency alone could provide. The loss of KLOVE would be a loss to Raleigh of more than just music, as noted above. I support the continued broadcasting of this station as being very much in the public interest. - Janelle Bitikofer
